

My Reality 163bpm A maj

My reality everyday, my reality every...

Dictating in your office, you're slowing getting pissed.

I tidy up your papers, wait to be dismissed

You look at me that way now. You got my full contempt

I don't need your advances but I need to pay my rent

I feel my head exploding, battle my inner rage

I plunge the letter opener, into your tiny brain

What have I done? What have I done?

My reality everyday. My reality.

Your greatest asset you say, your only hope I know

But I don't let the words out just see and smile and cow

I'm weighing up my options your pressing me on your desk

Your corporate corner office My pride, as you lift my dress

I feel my anger rising, battle to keep my cool

I punch the office stapler into your tiny tool

(Oh oh) What have I done? What have I done?

My reality everyday. My reality.

(SKIP TO MY LOU)

They could blame your mistress. They could blame your wife

One is too expensive. The other one so much trouble and strife

Finger prints everywhere, I'm suspect number one

This could be my new calling. Best job I've ever done.

I felt my head exploding, battle to keep my cool

I punched the office stapler into your tiny tool

(Oh oh) What have I done? What have I done?

My reality. My reality. My reality.

My reality. My reality. My reality.

My reality everyday
